ASSESSMENT IDEAS

1. Write program notes for pieces in your repertoire.
2. Use Screencastify or other tool to have students make recordings and send to you for grading/scoring
3. Record yourself conducting so they can practice their parts along with you.
4. Assign a solo song to the entire chorus to learn (Italian Arias, anyone?) Caro mio ben
<https://artsongcentral.com/2007/giordani-caro-mio-ben/>
5. Plan a choral concert project. Give them a budget, time frame, links to JwPepper and go!
6. Book Club: Assign readings to your students and then meet online in Skype or Zoom to discuss/reflect
7. Compare/contrast youtube performances of the same work/different choirs.
8. Virtual recital: have students learn solo pieces, share a “performance” on an online platform like Zoom or Google Meet

VIDEOS OR DEMOS

1. Sing that Thing!: PBS choir competition show, full episodes available on WGBH’s website,
